

Sally Farah D.M.D. -Prosthodontist

Dr. Farah completed her dental school training at the University of Pittsburgh School of Dental Medicine and the Lebanese University School of Dentistry. She completed a prosthodontics residency at the Louisiana State University of Dentistry, followed by a fellowship in maxillofacial prosthetics and oral oncology at the University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center.

Dr Farah served as an Assistant Professor at the University of Pittsburgh School of Dental Medicine where she taught and mentored dental students and residents, as well as treated her patients at the hospital and the intramural faculty practice. She served as a reviewer for several prestigious dental journals. She is a member of the American College of Prosthodontists, the American Dental Education Association, and the International Academy of Facial Aesthetics.

Dr. Farah's patient care focuses on complex prosthodontics and full mouth rehabilitation, including esthetic dentistry, implant dentistry, and maxillofacial prosthodontics.

In her free time, you can find Dr. Farah enjoying outside activities and volunteering at the local animal shelter.

